Governor Woodrow Wilson received the biggest, heartiest and most enthusiastic greeting of his campaign at Madison Square Garden last night when 16,000 men and women cheered, and shouted and stamped their feet for one hour and two minutes just to show the Democratic candidate for President how much they thought of him.

It was a new long distance enthusiasm record for Presidential candidates that was established last night, for it exceeded the demonstration for Colonel Roosevelt on Wednesday night by exactly twenty-two minutes.

When Governor Wilson poked his head through the little doorway leading to the stage at 9:12 o'clock last night it seemed as though the huge crowd which jammed the big auditorium had been saving itself for his coming. Every man and woman jumped to his or her feet, almost every one holding a small American flag, and they cheered and yelled just as loudly as they possibly could, and from then on the demonstration kept a-going, the goal of most of the enthusiasts being the breaking of the record of the night before.

Band Helps Cheering Along.

Occasionally there was a slight let-up in the noise, as many of the men and women became quiet from exhaustion, but it did not last long, for a friendly band playing such inspiring tunes as "Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue," "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," "Tammammy" and similar airs came to the rescue and when the music stopped the demonstration was continued with renewed vigor. The big audience joined in singing the choruses.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, in a box directly in front of the speakers' platform, was so overcome with emotion that she buried her face in her hands and wept, while her three daughters put their arms around her. Governor Wilson looked toward his family and brushed his hand across his eyes. Mrs. Wilson lifted her head and blew a kiss at her husband.

During the entire one hour and two minutes Governor Wilson remained standing in front of the stand. Occasionally he would raise his hands and move his lips, apparently asking for quiet, but no one heard him or wanted to hear him. There was only one thing that the crowd wanted to do, and that was to put Wednesday night's record in the shade, and it was not until they had done so by a big margin that anything like quiet was restored.

But the band wasn't the only thing that kept the enthusiasm at high pitch, for a becomingly dressed woman, said to be Mrs. C. E. Byrne, stirred the crowd to almost frenzied enthusiasm by walking up to the Governor and presenting to him a tiny American flag.

HADLEY AVOIDS ANSWER AS TO CANDIDACY.

Kansas City, Oct. 31.—"The mere mention of a man's name by his friends as a possible candidate for such an office as the Vice-Presidency is highly gratifying, but does not necessarily mean that he is a candidate," said Governor Hadley to-night, in answer to the question whether he would accept the nomination as President Taft's running mate if it was tendered him by the Republican National Committee.

"I had rather not answer the question at this time," he said. "It may not be necessary for me to make an announcement at all whether I would accept."

That a considerable percentage of the members of the Republican National Committee believe that it is unwise to defer the selection of a Vice-Presidential candidate until after the election and that there is much sentiment for Governor Hadley of Missouri for second place have been brought out by a telegram sent by The Tribune to the members of the committee yesterday afternoon.

The Tribune sent to each member of the national committee in this country a telegram expressing the view that there was danger in the proposition to defer the selection of a Vice-Presidential candidate until after the election, pointing out the possibility that a canard to the effect that some highly unimpeachable or unpopular candidate had been secretly chosen might be put out by the opposition press at an hour too late for successful contradiction, and asking members to telegraph their views and their choice for Vice-President if they had one.

Several names were mentioned in the replies which had reached The Tribune up to the time of going to press, but that of Governor Hadley most frequently. That the position of The Tribune is well taken is asserted by a number of those whose replies have thus far been received.

For instance, National Committeeman Marlow, of Montana, wires:

I fully agree with you that Vice-President nomination should be made now. My choice would be Governor Hadley of Missouri, or Fairbanks, of Indiana. I think we are placing dangerous card in hands of the enemy to wait until after election.

(Signed) T. A. MARLOW.

George E. Pexton, national committeeman from Wyoming, telegraphs:

I believe that the position of The Tribune as outlined in your telegram of this date is right. The people should know for whom they are voting. I am in favor of Governor Hadley as our nominee to succeed Mr. Sherman, and I believe that I voice the sentiment of a large majority of the Republican voters of the West.

(Signed) GEORGE E. PEXTON.

Chapin Brown, national committeeman from the District of Columbia, said:

In reply to your telegram I consider it advisable that the Republican National Committee make the choice of a Vice-Presidential candidate of the Republican party by next Saturday, if practicable. In view of a possible meeting of the committee at that time I do not deem it proper for me to express my choice in advance.

(Signed) CHAPIN BROWN.

T. K. Niedringhaus, national committeeman from Missouri, telegraphs as follows:

If it were possible to do so, I believe it would be preferable to make selection of candidate for Vice-President prior to the election. My personal preference to fill this vacancy is Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri.

(Signed) T. K. NIEDRINGHAUS.

L. B. Moseley, national committeeman from Mississippi, telegraphs:

I favor nomination of Vice-Presidential candidate before election. Will favor the candidate who can add the greatest strength to Presidential ticket. Am not at this time sufficiently informed as to who the candidate should be. (Signed) L. B. MOSELEY.

That Minnesota would favor the selection of Governor Hadley is indicated.

PERKINS BULLDOZING VOTERS, PALMER SAYS

Democratic State Chairman
Sees Plot in Hiring of Burns and Jerome.

HAS HORDE OF DETECTIVES

Threats of Jail for Ignorant
Ones Said to Have Been Made by Progressive Spotters.

George M. Palmer, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, in a statement issued yesterday asserted that a movement had been set on foot, under the leadership of George W. Perkins, financial backer of the Progressive party, to intimidate and keep from the polls many voters in the City of New York.

This statement has reference to the fact that the Progressive committee, with the approval of Colonel Roosevelt, has obtained the services of William J. Burns and a large staff of private detectives to ferret out fraud on Election Day, and also has interested W. T. Jerome in the work of prosecuting such cases of crookedness as the Burns men may find.

Both Burns and Jerome have had long conferences with the colonel, and it is understood they have offered their services without compensation, although the detective will, of course, get enough money to pay the force of men he expects to employ.

Mr. Palmer's statement follows:

It has come to the knowledge of the Democratic State Committee that a movement, under the guise of protecting the ballot box, is being organized, under the leadership of George W. Perkins, to intimidate and keep from the polls many voters in the City of New York. This movement takes the form of an alleged attempt to prevent repeating and organizing in the city. The means employed appear to be the hiring of so-called investigators, who, under the guise of examining and checking registered lists, are sent into the homes of Democratic voters in the crowded sections of the city at times when the heads of the households are absent. By false assumption and counterfeiting of the law, these investigators threaten the members of the household by intimating that if the father or son appears to vote on Election Day he will be arrested.

This procedure is an outrage and a wrong that would not be tolerated in any other city than New York, nor in any other country than ours. The State Committee is informed that a man named Emerson has for several days been engaging young men to perform this nefarious work.

The fact is that the City of New York is more free from election fraud than any other large city in the country. The registration lists are subjected to scrutiny and examination by the police authorities, and the State Superintendent of Elections and other officials charged with the duty of insuring the purity of the lists, and insuring an honest election. The purpose of the investigators employed by Emerson and paid for by the Democrats is to prevent the honest voters from voting, by appealing to the fears of members of their families, that are unauthorized by any law, and in violation of every law.

Families that are subjected to the invasion of their homes by unauthorized persons should resent the affront by ejecting them, and by reporting to the proper authorities the indignities to which they are subjected.

MAYOR'S PRETTIEST BRIDE

She's the One His Honor Makes
Mrs. B. S. Catts.

The last thing Mayor Gaynor did before leaving his office yesterday evening was to unite in marriage Benjamin Samuel Catts, a young lawyer, living at No. 142 West 49th street, and Ethel Savage Conklin, of No. 44 Pinchurst avenue.

After the Mayor had given the couple his best wishes and bade them farewell, he commented:

"That is the prettiest girl I have married since I have been Mayor," Lieutenant William Kennell, his policeman, said the Mayor had displayed good judgment.

TURKEY MEDITATES SUING FOR PEACE

Counsel of Despair Said to Prevail at the Porte—Cabinet Discussing Ending War.

Constantinople, Nov. 1, 1 a. m.—Serious news has been received from the front. The Council of Ministers is still sitting at the Porte. It is believed that the ministers are discussing the question of concluding peace with the Balkan States.

The exact nature of the latest advices from the battle line in Thrace has not been made known, but last evening the government received the following report from Nazim Pacha, the War Minister and commander of the Turkish forces:

"Our eastern army has been engaged for the last four days in serious fighting with the Bulgarian forces between Lule Burgas and Visa. Our army corps, concentrated at Lule Burgas and to the north, are offering vigorous resistance to the enemy advancing in this direction.

"The citadel at Adrianople is still holding out. Our forces in the neighborhood of Visa are making a successful advance."

Still earlier official advices stated that a Bulgarian force of 30,000 men had concentrated in the Istrandia Mountains, where "the retreat of the Bulgarians had been cut off."

SNORING IS NO CRIME

Judge Releases Disturber Arrested in Chicago.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
Chicago, Oct. 31.—Snoring is no crime. This was a decision rendered by Municipal Judge Uhrl in the West Chicago avenue court to-day. Walter Mozak, twenty-five years old, was arrested last night on a charge of disorderly conduct. He had crawled into a hallway and slumbered in an unmistakable manner. The nasal disturbances aroused the tenants of the building, who endeavored to awaken the man. The attempt was unsuccessful and the police were called. The latter were unable to rouse Mozak and he was taken to the station in an ambulance. In court he declared that he had been attacked by two men.

"Your only offense was snoring," remarked the judge, "and I can't fine you for that."

SEGER'S HORSE CHAMPION

County Judge's Trotter Beats
Justice Tompkins' at Goshen.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)
Goshen, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Five hundred persons to-day saw Justice Arthur S. Tompkins' Little Kate beaten by County Judge Seeger's Amasia. The horses were called at 2:30 and Judge Tompkins drew the pole. It was announced that only one score would be allowed. The trotters came down even up, and Seeger nodded for the word. Both horses broke at the quarter. At the half Little Kate led by six lengths. Seeger was nosing her out at the three-quarters, when both horses broke again. Judge Tompkins won the heat by three lengths in 2:27½.

Judge Seeger drove back to the stand and announced that Amasia had pulled a shoe. Twenty-five minutes were given before the second heat. In the second heat Little Kate broke at the five-eighths, and Judge Seeger won the heat by two lengths in 2:27. Judge Seeger won the third heat in 2:29, after a pretty race. Little Kate broke at the three-quarters pole.

NAZIM PACHA SHOT?

Turkish General, Wounded or a
Prisoner, Says Report.

London, Nov. 1.—Nazim Pacha, the Turkish Minister of War and commander in chief in Thrace, has been either shot or taken prisoner, according to a dispatch from Sofia to "The Morning Post."

According to a Vienna dispatch, Nazim was killed during the battle yesterday, but this is not regarded as correct.

SIX HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Bellevue Hospital Ambulances
Busy After Collision.

Six persons were injured in a collision under the "L" road at Third avenue and 23d street this morning between a white touring car and a black machine, in which the black car was smashed and immediately set on fire by its own gasoline.

The six persons injured were taken to Bellevue Hospital in ambulances. They were:

ROGERS, Mrs. Nellie, twenty-one years old, of No. 253 West 25th street.
ROSENBERG, Harry, twenty-four years old, of No. 20 Ridge street.
LOCKE, Miss Lydia, twenty-eight years old, of No. 3114 South Grand avenue, St. Louis.
FRIED, Harry, of No. 159 Suffolk street.
DARNER, Bertram, 39 years old, of No. 262 West 46th street.
UNIDENTIFIED MAN.

All were cut and bruised and some were badly burned. Patrolman Weisenbecker found Miss Locke wandering around hysterically in the street, but she was so wrought up she could say nothing about the accident.

Fried was the driver and owner of the black car and Darnar was the driver of the other machine, the number of which is listed as belonging to T. E. Kirby, of No. 65 Central Park West.

200,000 TURKS UTTERLY ROUTED

Masterly Bulgarian Strategy Places Constantinople Virtually at the Mercy of General Savoff's Army.

PORTE MAY SUE FOR PEACE

Nazim Pacha, Completely Out-manœuvred, Falls Back on Tchoru, News of the Capture of Which Comes to Hand—Lule Burgas Called a Sedan.

(By Cable to The Tribune.)
London, Nov. 1.—Now beyond all question the Turks have suffered a crushing defeat. Details are still lacking, but the fact that a message has been received from Constantinople stating that, in consequence of grave news from the front, the Cabinet is still sitting and is believed to be considering the question of suing for peace is of great significance.

No such dispatch would have been allowed to pass the censor if the Turks had not been in a desperate plight. It was known early yesterday that the Turkish left had been compelled to retreat after suffering great slaughter, but there was just a possibility that this might have been countered by an attempt on the part of Nazim Pacha to break the Bulgarian centre.

Later information, however, shows that the smashing of the Turkish left rendered a general retreat necessary, the right wing being obliged to fall back to prevent the possibility of being cut off.

Both wings are now believed to be retreating as rapidly as possible to the lines of Tchatalja, the last defences of Constantinople, from which city they are only twenty miles distant.

Latest reports are that Tchoru has been taken and that the Bulgarians are advancing on the lines of Tchatalja.

According to a Vienna dispatch Nazim was killed during yesterday's battle, but this is unconfirmed and is probably untrue.

In this wise a four days' battle in Thrace has ended in the triumph of the Bulgarian commander in chief, General Savoff, whose skilful strategy has probably brought to a close one of the shortest and most remarkable campaigns on record.

A great Turkish army, estimated at more than 200,000 men, has been defeated and is in retreat. Constantinople is believed to be at the mercy of the victorious Bulgarian army, and a council, sitting at the Porte, is discussing the advisability of suing for peace.

It is only a fortnight since Turkey declared war. The first week of the campaign closed with the dramatic fall of Kirk-Kiliseh, fully revealing for the first time the disorganization, bad morale and inefficient commissariat of the Turkish army. To-day that army is defeated, routed, within fifty miles from Constantinople. Its retreat within the capital's line of defences is probably cut off.

Only the briefest and vaguest accounts of the great battle have yet been received, for the war has been especially remarkable in that not a single war correspondent has been allowed at the front, except in the case of the little Montenegrin campaign against Scutari.

BIASSED OFFICIAL ACCOUNTS.

Thus no independent personal narratives of the absorbing events have been possible, and the world has had to depend on biased official accounts provided by the respective governments, or confused details supplied by wounded soldiers.

Apparently Nazim Pacha has been completely outmanœuvred by Savoff's skilful generalship. The Bulgarian turning movement along the Black Sea coast now appears to have been a feint, which induced the Turkish commander to throw his main army to the eastward, to such effect that the Bulgarian force on this side had the greatest difficulty in holding the Turks in check.

In fact, this point seems a little in doubt. The Bulgarians gave way, and thus enabled Nazim Pacha to report to Constantinople some success in this direction.

In the meantime, however, General Savoff hurled his great strength against the Turks' weakened left wing, which he crushed in at Lule Burgas. The fighting along the whole front, which evidently has been of the most stubborn and determined character, was carried on day and night without intermission, and both sides lost heavily.

TCHORLU THREATENED.

The capture of Nazim Pacha's headquarters, at Tchoru, to which town the defeated Turks retreated, has not as yet been reported, but is hourly expected at Sofia, in which case the Turks will be forced within the defensive lines of Tchatalja, the only remaining fortified position protecting Constantinople. These lines are twenty-five miles to the northwest of the capital.

Adrianople still holds out, but has lost its importance, now that the Turks have met their Sedan at Lule Burgas.

A noticeable feature of the war is the insignificant part played by the Turkish and the Greek fleets.

The first air victim of the war, the Russian aviator Popoff, was instructor of aviation in the Russian army. With several other aviators he left Russia a few days ago to offer his services to the Bulgarian army. While flying with his machine over Adrianople he was brought down by Turkish shrapnel shells. Special reports say he was killed.

ALLIES MAY REJECT OFFERS OF MEDIATION

(By Cable to The Tribune.)
London, Nov. 1.—It is understood that the immediate result of the latest Turkish disaster will be an attempt by the powers to mediate between the belligerents. Representations will be made both to Constantinople and to Salonica by the demoralized Turkish soldiery, aided and abetted by the civilian mob, and a united naval demonstration will be made if needful. Warships are already proceeding to Turkish waters.

The attention of the powers has been called to the risk of a massacre of Christians in Constantinople and in Salonica by the demoralized Turkish soldiery, aided and abetted by the civilian mob, and a united naval demonstration will be made if needful. Warships are already proceeding to Turkish waters.

To Attack Salonica.

The Greek army is marching in force to attack Salonica, the way for this advance having been opened by a battle which took place at Kallar between the Greek divisions which are marching to Sorovich and a force of four thousand
